1. Qlik sense cannot be installed on the Linux servers. Although the official documentation of it suggests that the enterprise version can be installed in the containers running on the Linux instance. I tried all the images for qlik sense available on the docker hub but none of them worked as expected.
2. Qlik sense installation on the Windows EC2 instance – We will require the paid version of the Qlik sense sever to be installed on the EC2 instances. When tried installing the trial desktop edition, the below error was encountered,

I have contacted the Sales team for the assistance on the same,
